SUMMARY PROFILE

I am an energetic, intelligent, focused, experienced and competent Kenyan female professional who is enthusiastic and passionate about Quality Teaching, Research, Higher Education Management, Mentorship and service to Moi University, the local community and humanity at large. I have done quality teaching in Moi University for close to thirty years since my first employment in 1992 as a Graduate assistant. I have successfully taught, supervised and examined students to completion from undergraduate to postgraduate levels including mentoring them. I have done quality research in my area of specialization in Moral Philosophy as exemplified by my Masters and PhD thesis. I have done research on early adolescence through the African Christian Initiation Program (ACIP) a Consultancy within the Department of Philosophy, Religion & Theology which is involved in training and mentoring adolescence. More than one hundred alumni have been mentored through the program. I am one of its founder members (ACIP which was founded in 2004). I was involved in carrying out a Tracer Research of our ACIP alumni to find out the value/ impact the program had on them after ten years of its existence. I am a Member of Africa Cluster Centre of Bayreuth University, Germany and a Board Member of the Moi University Cluster of Excellence Centre (MU-ACC). In the MU-ACC am the Research Section (RS) Moralities Spokesperson which again is in line with my area of specialization. Am a trained internal quality auditor through KEBS on ISO matters and participates in internal quality audits in Moi University as a lead auditor. I am a DAAD scholar and have competitively been selected and successfully trained in Leadership and Higher Management Programs including Universities' Graduate Tracer Studies, International Deans' Course and DIES/ National Multiplication trainings (NMT). I am also trained through PASGR on Pedagogy (PEDAL) and have participated in trainings in many African Universities. I am self-driven/motivated and a team player who interacts easily with other people irrespective of their backgrounds. I am optimistic, hardworking, committed, dedicated, responsible and dependable individual with high moral values and integrity.

CAREER OBJECTIVES

- To be a seasoned professional in academics and other sectors
- To be a dedicated and honest public servant
- To be a renown scholar of national, regional and international repute through spearheading and engaging in research, attending and facilitating seminars/ conferences and workshops, presenting papers and publishing
- To spearhead and influence policies in key areas of Higher Education management and other relevant sectors
- To continue to attract funding to Moi University and other relevant sectors through teaching, research, and extension and to forge linkages and collaborations with international partners thereby raising Moi University's profile to higher levels.
